

Golden Grove

Imagine vividly, an orchard of trees with bright golden sunset rays cascading across all the woodlands. As we bask, self enlightenment arises.

Glowing green leafs, slightly damp bark on tree trunks glistening golden rays in the distance, warm soft grass on the toes and a steady stream, babbling water flowing and animals chirping. Carefully woodland critters approach as they feel out your radiant aura and see you are not a threat just a means to their warm enlightenment as well. As your aura amplifies with the subtle breeze, glowing rays of transparent color these animals begin to amplify back, giving you spiritual alignment to another layer of life.
