

Alluring Aura

Electro - magnetism was discovered a long time ago, in the form of an aura, Auras have different forms and are organized by color.

if you activate levels 1 - 7 your aura is labeled as a rainbow, this means you have a continuous surge of energy through every corridor of your brain simultaneously.

Within the Kundalini realm that aura spreads through the air, the raw power essentially evaporates the chemicals of each corridor except unlike mist it doesn't settle and unlike real evaporation it stays around you, it is a part of you and others can feel the magnetic shifts.

Auras Amplify, this is known as Aura Amplification, the human brain consists of 3 main sections, Body, Soul and Mind.

when a new brain is born and begins the early stages of development the :

Body is at level 1,
Soul is at level 1,
Mind is at level 1,

as we begin to develop from our first steps we all reach an equal level,

Body is at level 10,
Soul is at level 10,
Mind is at level 10,

Body Is multiplied by the mind which =s 100, and is then multiplied by the soul which =s 1,000 which is the power of our natural aura.

lets say a 1,000 is the average score for an 18 year old, if you where to put the baby with the 18 year old, the 1 year old will not feel the aura, however the baby will and this will allow this newborn to possibly adapt faster over time.

as we reach an older age of 80, we will reach a natural level of wisdom
Body is at level 100,
Soul is at level 100,
Mind is at level 100,

Body Multiplied by mind, and multiplied again by Soul $100 \times 100 \times 100 = 1,000,000$

The Body and Mind are your own, After this timely process your aura will grow once the soul receives its portion of distributed growth.

An aura is only able to be multiplied and amplified with another auras soul calibration.

a room of only 100 level 1,000,000 can reach in the trillions squared, this amplification could possibly counter solar flares, and solar radiation.

in an example there are 100 passengers on Flight A, traveling for 12 hours many of them especially at high altitudes start to purge their auras. If this flight was all teenagers the aura around Flight A would be significantly less, possibly only in the billions, that aura could reach out a few hundred feet and the solar flare could easily over power and cause a malfunction on Flight A.

Flight B is full of 100, level 1,000,000 all reaching a peak performance of potentially 10,000,000 each due to pressure caused by altitude, more of our magnetized particles are released simultaneously as the shift in pressure effects all of the passengers at the same time. The solar flare has no chance, this aura's simultaneous surge was so massive and short lived that it reached a level of 100 trillion squared 100 times. each square compounds 100 trillion squared is 100,000 trillions, multiplied by 100 trillion, reaching 10,000,000 trillions, this continues to amplify, reaching 2 miles in diameter, enough for a person 2 miles down to feel a slight presence. This Aura on Flight B counter acted a solar flare of radiation which projectiles from the sun after a million years of traveling from the sun's core.
